Flowers for Lucy Moscato 2019

“Three days a week my two little girls stroll into the Cellar Door to say hi, and almost always they are holding flowers picked along the way.

Alice's flowers excitedly go to her Mum, while Lucy's - with her arm stretched out proudly - come to me.

“These are for you Dad,” she says.

One day (when she is old enough to enjoy in moderation) the burst of floral flavours in this Moscato will be my flowers to her.” Dru Reschke.

Tasting notes

Delicate rose and elderberry flower on the nose, with the light fizz highlighting Turkish delight, musk, and cumquat flower notes. Great balance of sweetness and refreshing lime and floral notes – along with low alcohol – making it easier to have a glass or two during dinner. Finishes with a nice lingering cherry blossom honey on the palate.

Food match

Summer berry trifle and homemade icecream.
